THE EXCEL LEGACY REALTY GROUP
Trust, Security & Future (TSF) Master Bundle

Instructor Master Guide

Teach the full course with confidence — no law degree required, no improvisation needed.

Education and document assembly only — not legal, tax, or financial advice. Realtors do not practice law. Every student is referred to a licensed attorney for review before signing, notarizing, or funding.

How any Excel Legacy realtor teaches this course

You teach mechanics, checklists, and real-estate funding — never legal conclusions. Open every session with: 'I am a licensed Michigan realtor with the Excel Legacy Realty Team, not an attorney. We have helped Michigan families organize and fund trusts alongside their home purchases and sales for years. Today I teach you the system; your attorney approves your documents.' Room kit: printed workbooks, sample watermarked documents, funding checklists, attorney referral cards, calculators, pens. Total seat time: 6.5 hours (teach as 2 evenings or 1 Saturday).

Module 1 — Why Trusts Fail — The Funding Rule (45 min)

Objective: Explain probate, revocable vs irrevocable, and why an unfunded trust controls nothing.

Instructor script — Say: 'A trust is a bucket. Signing creates the bucket — funding puts your assets in it. An empty bucket protects nothing, and probate court decides instead of you.'

In-class activity: Students list every asset they own on Workbook p.1 and mark Funded / Not Funded. Most discover 80% unfunded — that is the buying moment for help, not shame.

Compliance guardrail: Never promise probate avoidance for a specific estate; say 'a properly funded trust generally avoids probate for assets it holds.'

Module 2 — Anatomy of the Declaration of Trust (60 min)

Objective: Walk the Declaration clause by clause: trustee powers, beneficiaries totaling 100%, power of direction, successor and 20-year term rules.

Instructor script — Say: 'This is the constitution of your trust. Percentages must total exactly 100 — we check the math together, out loud.'

In-class activity: Students draft their beneficiary table in the Workbook and total it to 100% in class.

Compliance guardrail: Do not interpret ambiguous family situations; flag blended-family, minor, or special-needs cases for the attorney referral list.

Module 3 — Choosing Trustees Who Can Actually Serve (45 min)

Objective: Initial, co-trustee and successor design; complete the Appointment & Acceptance document.

Instructor script — Say: 'Pick the person who answers the phone, keeps records, and can say no. Love is not a qualification — reliability is.'

In-class activity: Students name primary + successor trustees with full legal names and mailing addresses (Workbook p.3).

Compliance guardrail: Never serve as a student's trustee and never accept fiduciary appointment on the spot; disclose any relationship in writing.

Module 4 — Exhibit A — Funding With Real Assets (60 min)

Objective: Schedule LLC/business interests, bank and brokerage accounts, vehicles, equipment and IP into Exhibit A.

Instructor script — Say: 'If it is not on Exhibit A and retitled, it is not in the trust. We schedule it, assign it, then verify it — in that order.'

In-class activity: Students complete their Exhibit A draft; realtors review for missing FEINs, entity numbers, and account last-4s.

Compliance guardrail: Do not retitle anything yourself; students sign assignments and banks/title companies execute transfers.

Module 5 — The Affidavit Banks Actually Accept (45 min)

Objective: Certificate of trust authority, signing thresholds, tax ID/EIN, FinCEN CDD beneficial-ownership disclosures, third-party reliance.

Instructor script — Say: 'Banks rarely read your whole trust. They rely on this sworn certificate — that is why it must match the Declaration exactly.'

In-class activity: Students cross-check names, dates, and Tax ID across all three documents (Workbook consistency checklist).

Compliance guardrail: Never disclose a student's full trust schedules to a bank beyond what the Affidavit authorizes.

Module 6 — Execution Day — Signing & Notarization (30 min)

Objective: Who signs what in what order, notary blocks, witnesses, and the errors that void a signing.

Instructor script — Say: 'Nobody signs anything in this room today. Attorney review first, notary second — in that order, every time.'

In-class activity: Run the mock signing-order drill with sample (watermarked) pages.

Compliance guardrail: Never notarize your own students' documents if you are a notary on the transaction; use an independent notary.

Module 7 — Your Home, Vehicles & Everything Else (60 min)

Objective: Deeding a home (lender call-first, title insurance continuity), retitling vehicles without coverage gaps, retitle vs POD/TOD per account.

Instructor script — Say: 'Your home is where our real-estate license earns its keep: deed, lender, insurance, and tax records must move together.'

In-class activity: Students build their property funding plan with deed, lender, and insurer phone numbers (Workbook p.6).

Compliance guardrail: Deeds are prepared or reviewed by the attorney/title company; realtors coordinate, never draft deeds.

Module 8 — Keep It Funded For Life (30 min)

Objective: The funding-checklist habit, annual 20-minute review, amendments, trustee removal, and when to call the team.

Instructor script — Say: 'Every new asset gets a trust decision the week you buy it. Put the annual review on your calendar before you leave.'

In-class activity: Students book their annual review date and take the one-page funding checklist for the fridge door.

Compliance guardrail: Close every class with the attorney/CPA referral reminder and the written disclaimer signed by the student.

Closing & the offer (10 min)

Recap the funding rule, book annual reviews, then present the two paths without pressure: (1) take the kit home and self-assemble with attorney review, or (2) Done-With-You Assembly where your Excel Legacy realtor/broker assembles all three documents and the funding plan with you. Collect evaluations and referrals: 'Who is the one person you love who owns a home and has no funded trust? Give us their name and we will send them the free Starter Kit with your compliments.'
